reconcilability of myth and modernity are found in the work of certain prominent novelists this book offers a close examination of the work of eleven writers from the late eighteenth century to the beginning of the twenty first representing german french american czech and swedish literature the analyses of individual novels reveal a variety of intriguing views of myth in modernity and offer an insight into the modernizing transformations myth has undergone when applied in the modern novel the study shows the presence of the subconscious the mythic layer in modern western culture and how this has been dealt with in novelistic literature myths are a central part of our reality but merely debunking them lets us forget why they are created in the first place and why we need them andreas fischer draws on key examples from german postwar culture from novelists hans henny jahnn and hubert fichte to sculptor and performance artist joseph beuys and filmmaker werner herzog to show that mythmaking is an indispensable human practice in times of crisis against the background of mythologies based in nineteenth century romanticism and their ideological continuation in nazism fresh forms of mythmaking in the narrative visual and performative arts emerged as an aesthetic paradigm in postwar modernism boldly rewriting the cultural history of an era and setting in transition the aesthetics of mythmaking in german postwar culture counters the predominant narrative of an exclusively rational vergangenheitsbewältigung coming to terms with the past far from being merely reactionary the turn toward myth offered a dimension of existential orientation that had been neglected by other influential aesthetic paradigms of the postwar period fischer's wide ranging transmedia account offers an inclusive perspective on myth beyond storytelling and instead develops mythopoesis as a formal strategy of modernism at large
